

Susan Gardner

Wellbeing in the Workplace, Founder and Entrepreneur

A successful Hairdressing Salon Owner with many years experience in this exciting and creative industry. Plus an inspiring career in Sales and Marketing for some well known Credit Information Service Companies. Latterly retrained in a variety of Complementary Therapies and has practiced in private clinics over the last decade.

Susan is passionate about informing, educating and empowering people; presenting a balanced view, embracing allopathic and complementary methods and techniques.

High professional standards and quality are of the utmost importance in her pursuit of excellence and these are the principles adopted as a primary focus for Wellbeing in the Workplace - business with integrity.